CARE

360° View → The Power of Whole-Person Care

In any given year, there are approximately 34 million American adults with co-morbid mental and medical conditions. Coordinating care can improve clinical outcomes, increase care quality while reducing cost, and boost consumer satisfaction.

What's The End Game

- The goal of the Whole Person Care is the coordination of health, behavioral health, and social services, in a patient-centered manner with the goals of improved beneficiary health and wellbeing through more efficient and effective use of resources.

Through collaborative leadership and systematic coordination among public and private entities, a Whole Person Care Model should identify target populations, share data between systems, coordinate care real time, and evaluate individual and population progress – all with the goal of providing comprehensive coordinated care for the beneficiary resulting in better health outcomes.
